

Finding your Calling

The 'What the %@$# am I doing with my Life' Workshop!

Is this for you?

Do you ever get that 'panic' of feeling time is ticking along, and you still haven't figured out what the heck you're supposed to be doing with your life?

Perhaps you are a person with lots of talents, interests, and passions, but you just can't figure out how to put 'em all together.

There is hope! - There are 5 steps to getting on track, and it starts with understanding a much bigger picture of yourself and the ecosystem of your life. You will wonder how you ever made life decisions without taking these 5 JRs into account!
